Todd LaPorte, CEO
HonorHealth

At HonorHealth, our team members and physicians are focused on improving our regional health needs. With more than 90 years of experience, no organization knows and understands our greater Phoenix community like we do.

Access to quality, cost-effective healthcare services continues to be a pressing need, and we've embraced technology to help us reach our patients where they are in their healthcare journey. We have expanded access to MyChart, a free, easy-to-use, secure website that provides personal health information quickly and conveniently from your computer, smartphone or tablet. MyChart Spanish and E-visit capabilities allow physicians and patients new ways to digitally communicate effectively and affordably.

Desert Mission continued to address the social determinants of health, providing food access and nutritional support, early childhood education and senior enrichment. In 2022, they saw a 62% increase in first-time clients, reflecting a greater need from seniors, infants and children, and families. Expansion of their Living Well program further supported Food Bank clients, with staff trained to listen for cues to uncover root causes of food insecurity and provide cross-program support based on unique needs.

I am proud to share this summary, which illustrates HonorHealth's continued dedication to improve the health and wellbeing of those we serve. I would also like to express my gratitude for all of our physicians, team members and community leaders who helped make this possible.

Definition of terms

Charity care for low-income patients:

Free or discounted health services provided to persons who cannot afford to pay and who meet the eligibility criteria of HonorHealth's financial assistance policy. Financial assistance is reported in terms of costs, not charges.

Costs of unpaid Medicaid (AHCCCS):

Unpaid costs of public programs for low-income persons – the shortfall created when HonorHealth receives payments that are less than the cost of caring for public program beneficiaries.

Community health improvements and other benefits:

Costs associated with activities implemented to improve community health, such as community health education and community-based clinical services. These services include health services and screenings for underinsured and uninsured persons, support groups, health education lectures and workshops by team members to community groups, health promotion and wellness programs, and healthcare support services, such as enrollment assistance in public programs. This category includes the costs of clinical educational programs for physicians, interns and residents, medical students, nurses and nursing students, and other health professionals. The category also includes the costs of clinical and community health research.

Also included are costs to improve the community's health and safety by addressing the root causes of health problems, such as poverty, homelessness and environmental hazards. These activities strengthen our community's capacity to promote the health and well-being for its residents.

Costs of unpaid Medicare: Unpaid costs of public programs, such as Medicare and the shortfall created when HonorHealth receives payments that are less than the cost of caring for public program beneficiaries.
