

Dear applicants,

On behalf of our HonorHealth Internal Medicine Residency Program, welcome! We are excited to share with you all the things we love about our program.

One of the highlights of our residency program is our emphasis on mental and physical wellbeing. We pride ourselves on the ability to provide residents with a safe learning space to foster growth. A lot of the changes in our program since its inception are resident-driven. Our program leaders hold regular “round-table” sessions to discuss opportunities for change to maximize our education and wellness. We are also fortunate to have a diverse group of supportive faculty members who care about the residency program and dedicate their time for individualized mentorship and success.

Our program director, Dr. Sall, is extremely passionate about education and the “growth mindset.” Here, we focus on developing your abilities to be a well-rounded clinician and a lifelong learner. In addition to protected time during our Academic Half Day, we also have fun activities such as our “Official Knowledge Games”, “Medical Jeopardy”, “Medical Escape Room” and “Great Debates” to help facilitate learning.

Our hospital is in Scottsdale, Arizona, surrounded by great views and amazing sunrises and sunsets. If you’re into racquet sports, golfing, hiking, camping, kayaking, or food tasting – this may be the place for you! We’re fortunate to have amazing people in our program to share experiences with both inside and outside of the hospital. We go tubing down the Salt River, skiing at the Arizona Snowbowl, camping in Sedona, and hiking in some of the 239 scenic trails in Phoenix. We are also a convenient 20-minute drive away from Phoenix Sky Harbor airport for both domestic and international flights.

We welcome any questions about our program and look forward to meeting you during interview season. Lastly, we wish you the best of luck for the upcoming application season!

Drs. Abid, Kim and Kerkelis
