1st Year Residents

CLASS OF 2021-INTERNAL MEDICINE RESIDENCY PROGRAM

Martin Joseph, D.O.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: The people! I am so lucky to learn from and grow with the amazing people here at the TPK and throughout HonorHealth. Future Plans: I am interested in Infectious Disease and Toxicology. I am open to pursuing a fellowship post residency, but for now I look forward to enjoying my time and growing as an Internal Medicine Resident.

Fun Facts: Gym, Tan, Laundry (just kidding). But really, I like to stay active, travel, eat different kinds of food, play videogames, watch movies, and listen to electronic dance music.

Paige McCleary, M.D.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: I wanted a small-sized program where I knew my work would be valued. To me the HonorHealth IM Residency was the program that would make my personal growth and development as a physician a priority.

Future Plans: I have not decided my next step yet, but I am interested in continuing with Internal Medicine.

Fun Facts: Apart from medicine, I love competitive sports! I am always interested in forming a fantasy football league or playing a pick-up game of soccer.

Anh Nguyen, D.O.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: I had the chance to rotate with the HonorHealth IM Program as a Sub-I during my fourth year of medical school. Not only did I learn a great deal during my rotation, but I was impressed with how kind and supportive everyone in the program was. The program may be young, but that does not limit our ability to become great physicians. I am proud to be a part of the Third Class of this program.

Future Plans: I will be looking to pursue a fellowship after I complete my residency at HonorHealth. Fun Facts: I love rainy days, outdoor activities, drawing, cooking, traveling, and hanging out with my peers!

Jacqueline O'Neill, M.D.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: I chose HonorHealth because everyone here has genuine investment in the residents and our careers. In addition, I wanted to be somewhere that enabled me to make a difference.

Future Plans: My future goals are to work as a hospitalist or to do a fellowship in either Critical Care or Infectious Disease. In addition, I want to work with Global Health and Health Policy. Fun Facts: My favorite thing to do outside of medicine is travel and learn about different cultures and their history.

Lydia Taranto, M.D.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: I grew up in rural northern Arizona working in the outdoors in my family's home businesses. I decided to go into the medical field when my niece was born with complex congenital heart defects, inspired by her journey. I attended Northern Arizona University for undergrad (Biology, Chemistry and Economics) and the University of Arizona College of Medicine in Tucson for medical school. Initially I thought I would go into surgery, but after one year in residency here in the Valley I decided that I would rather be involved in patient care through Medicine rather than Surgery. I love cardiology and especially the pathophysiology of congenital heart disease, particularly in the adult.

HONORHEALT

Future Plans: My goals are to enter cardiology and do an additional fellowship to emphasize care of the adult with congenital heart disease.

Fun Facts: When I'm not working or studying, I enjoy spending time with my horse, oil painting, exploring as much of the world as possible, and my daily favorite, gym time!

Jonathan Theriot, D.O.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: Three things about the HonorHealth IM Residency stood out to me. One, I did not have to relocate my family! Two, an unbeatable quality of life as a resident. Three, I really got a sense that the faculty is truly dedicated to teaching. Future Plans: My future plan is to work in rural inpatient medicine.

Fun Facts: I have two little kiddos and a working wife so "me time" is quite rare. I wanted to go to culinary school at one point. As a result, I was challenged by Dr. Markus, our Program Director, to a gumbo cook-off.
