

2nd Year Residents

CLASS OF 2020—INTERNAL MEDICINE RESIDENCY PROGRAM

Daniel Davis, M.D.

Future Plans: Primary care.

Fun Facts: I'm crazy about biking, hiking, backpacking. Arizona is a good place to do all three.

Dylan Doss, D.O.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: In the HonorHealth IM Residency, I've found supportive and encouraging leadership, resourceful and knowledgeable upper classmates, and a culture of excellence that motivates my learning and growth every day to provide the best possible care for my patients. It was evident early on in my residency, the great strides that our faculty had taken to provide easy access to a wide array of resources for professional and educational development, and to foster an environment that motivates all of us to squeeze out every ounce of experience we can on our rotations, each and every day!

Future Plans: Ambulatory Medicine, most likely. I enjoy getting to know my patients, and being on the frontline of preventive medicine.

Fun Facts: I'm an Arizona native and let me tell you - it's an awesome place to live! The summers are hot, but easily alleviated with a pool party or road trip up north. If you like food as I do (see my picture), then you'll be glad to know that Arizona is a cultural melting pot with the cuisine that reflects it. As a resident, you'll be busy - it's important to live in a city where you have a number of options when it comes to R & R, and now here beats AZ.

Mary Gomez, D.O.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: As a local, I value training in and serving the greater Phoenix community. The HonorHealth IM Residency Program provides a fantastic opportunity to do both.

Future Plans: I'm looking forward to focusing on either dermatology or sports medicine within the internal medicine field.

Fun Facts: Pretty much sums me up: God, family, nature, working out, hiking, biking, brunch, patios, sports, Phoenix Suns, Arizona Cardinals, spring training games, March Madness, St. Patrick's day, Italy, sailing, and music festivals!

Janie Goodall, D.O.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: There were several things that drew me to HonorHealth.

Despite being a new program, the residency exists within a well-established and diverse healthcare system. The training opportunities are diverse and numerous. The didactics are well structured. More compelling than all of these though, are the people. The residents and faculty I encountered on my interview liked each other, liked their program, and were clearly happy to be where they were. That, more than anything, sold me on making it my home for the ensuing three years.

Future Plans: My goal is to be a hospitalist and remain in the valley.

Fun Facts: In my real life, I like trail running, mountain biking, skiing, and other outdoor adventures. I enjoy reading fiction, traveling, and spending time with friends and family.

Evan Hundley, M.D.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: The people. The interview really sold me as every single person I met was open and friendly. Also, the focus on work-life balance was important - yes, you're a resident, but you should be able to have a life too!

Future Plans: Still debating, but I've always been interested in GI. I'm also really enjoying critical care medicine.

Fun Facts: I'm a huge fan of food, and am always looking for new restaurants. Otherwise, I enjoy movies, board games, and part games. Once the sun calms down, I'm really looking forward to camping and hiking around here and up in the mountains.

Allan Santos, D.O.

Why HonorHealth IM Residency: As a medical student at AZCOM, I have had the opportunity to rotate at several hospitals around the valley. Not only is the hospital beautiful, but the staff is wonderfully supportive. During my 4th year of medical school on Rheumatology, I was able to interact with the residency program and was impressed with their didactics, the residents, as well as the attending staff's teaching abilities.

Future Plans: Undecided but interested in critical care medicine.

Fun Facts: I am a 2 time pub quiz winner.
